"Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers"

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's firm clad guarantee, backed by ourselves you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee.

PEDESTRIANS CARED FOR IN TRAFFIC LAW

Following is Section 39 of the new proposed traffic law relating to "pedestrians"—restrictions as to rights in streets. Pedestrians crossing streets within the congested traffic districts. Pedestrians crossing streets other than at intersections or street crossings, do so at their own risk. Pedestrians standing in streets, except when waiting for an approaching street car and while standing within six (6) feet from the street car track, do so at their own risk.

Pedestrians when crossing a street shall not carelessly or maliciously interfere with the passage of vehicles or street cars.

Pedestrians crossing any street other than intersections in any portion of the District of Honolulu, where practically sidewalks are located, do so at their own risk.

Drivers of vehicles and street cars shall exercise proper care not to injure pedestrians.

When a street has no sidewalk passable, the pedestrian who walks or stands in the street more than eight (8) feet from the side of the roadway does so at his own risk.

Within the "congested traffic district," a street crossing shall consist of such portions of the street as are included within the lines of the sidewalk projected across the street.

When the streets join, but do not intersect, at right angles, the crossing shall be between such lines projected at right angles to the line of the street. This section shall not apply to narrow lanes or alleys without sidewalks.

Outside of the "congested traffic district" and within the district of Honolulu, street crossings shall be those described above, and in addition thereto shall include a path 10 feet wide, extending at right angles across the street from a point on the street, marking the center line thereof, and marked "crossing," by authority of the board of supervisors, or marked "station" by the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company under authority of law.

It is the intention of this ordinance to call attention to the rule, that streets are primarily intended for vehicles, but pedestrians have the right to cross them in safety.

Pedestrians—Nuisance.
No person shall ride or jump upon any vehicle or street car without the consent of the driver or person in control thereof.

No person shall hang upon a vehicle in any manner whatsoever. It shall be unlawful for a pedestrian when crossing a street, or walking along a highway without a sidewalk, to interfere carelessly or maliciously with the passage of vehicles or street cars.

YE LIBERTY THEATER

A motor sledge gliding over a limitless field of sea ice is something that few people have been privileged to witness, yet this and a host of interesting things are vividly brought forth in the series of scenes incorporated in the motion picture film of the late Captain Robert Falcon Scott's memorable antarctic journey, to be offered the patrons of Ye Liberty theater beginning Saturday and continuing for a limited engagement. The motor sledges proved a valuable factor in the expedition.

Not only does the sledge propel itself but it transports tons of freight; true the speed is not fast, never exceeding more than three miles an hour but it is sure and efficient. Then, too, another innovation is observed at the rear of the sledge. It is a meter, attached to a miniature wheel, which is in turn hitched to the rear of the sledge and so at the end of a journey, but one little peek is required to ascertain the number of miles traversed.

In direct contrast to the slow moving, if unique, motor sledges, is the "flying" dog teams. These noble brutes, from eastern Siberia, literally race over the ice from the start to the finish. Truly, they are man's best friend, especially in that desolate waste where Jack Frost is king.

But perhaps something encountered by the exploring party may prove of more exciting interest than the methods of transportation. Hence, let us glance, through the eye of the all-conquering cinematograph, at the majestic and awe-inspiring volcano Mount Erebus, in a state of actual eruption. This film, acknowledged by scientists to be the greatest educational exhibit yet produced, was taken under extreme difficulties and but for the timely forethought of Mr. Herbert G. Ponting, F. R. G. S., official expert of the expedition, it would never have been recorded. He realized in advance the utter impossibility of dragging an apparatus, such as he was equipped with, up the side of an active volcano and provided himself with a special lens of great magnifying power, which he used at a distance of 15 miles from the lip of the crater. Owing to the peculiar atmospheric conditions prevalent in the land of the midnight sun, this film is as clear as a crystal and as brilliant as a July sunrise.

EXPLOSION OF PUDDING BURNS MINISTER'S WIFE

(By Latest Mail)
DOUGLAS, ARIZ.—An exploding fireless cooker threw pudding over the face, neck and arms of Mrs. J. M. Rich, wife of a Methodist minister at McNeel, 20 miles north of here. She was severely burned. The food was too hot when placed in the cooker, and the steam blew the top off, throwing scalding hot pudding all over the room.

PROGRAM OF MUSIC ON LIST FOR LECTURE AT YOUNG HOTEL THURSDAY

In addition to the lecture on the Philippines to be given at the Young Hotel on Thursday evening by the Rev. O. J. McMullen, the program has been doubly augmented by several musical selections.

Miss Genevieve Neustadt, a young visitor here and a graduate of the London conservatory of music, has kindly consented to open the entertainment by a piano solo:

Kamennoi Ostrow—A Rubenstein, op 10 is her selection.

Miss Neustadt although a comparative stranger among us, is well-known in Honolulu musical circles, and her kindness in this adding to the success of the evening, will no doubt meet with a full and enthusiastic response.

Mrs. G. K. Tackabury has also generously contributed her talent to a good cause. Mrs. Tackabury needs no introduction to a Honolulu audience; her charming voice has been thoroughly enjoyed on several former occasions.

"Lo! 'Tis the Hour"—Frederick Knight Logan, has been chosen by her for the evening and it is expected, that with the addition of these ladies, the program will prove an irresistible one.

The Honolulu Jewelry and Supply Company filed articles of association at the territorial treasurer's office yesterday. The firm starts business with a capital of $20,000, divided into 1000 shares and maximum capitalization of $100,000. The firm expects to begin business in Honolulu within a few days, as soon as a desirable site is found. The officers and amounts of stock held by each are as follows:

W. F. Heilbron, president, 250; L. M. King, vice-president, 50; A. Louis, secretary; B. F. Heilbron, treasurer, 150; L. A. Fair, auditor, 50; W. Tin Yan, 60; Pong Chew, 25 and Sai Luke King, 15.
